A Warning

There is no investment value of the German forced loan 1922 bonds, which are pure speculation. Advertisements of these bonds have been published lately in Saskatchewan papers in which a Montreal firm offers these bonds to the public at $55 per million marks.

WEED SEED CLEANER GIVES GOOD RESULTS UNDER ACTUAL TESTS

The weed seed cleaner, designed by the Alberta department of agriculture to separate weed seeds from the grain while the grain is being threshed is giving excellent results. The machine has been under test at the government farm at Fort Saskatchewan and has separated the weed seeds very effectively. The machine is attached to the separator and is operated by a belt from the cylinder pulley.

ON THE TRAIL OF THE MOOSE

Have you followed the trail of the lordly moose through the flaming forests of the north and heard him call from the barrens or tracked the fleet footed deer over the newly fallen snow, with the keen wind in your face while the trees cracked in the frost and the whole forest seemed vibrant with life. If you have, you know the real joy of the Canadian Autumn, which is never found on the city's streets nor in pulsing marts of commerce, but only in the clean open spaces and the fragrant silent woods.

Now that the leaves are turning crimson and gold you will begin to dream of the little hunting camp in the far north woods, of sparkling dewy dawns, tramps through the fallen leaves, blazing camp fires, wondrous autumn nights and the bed of balsam boughs, for there is no tonic in all the world for a tired brain and a weary soul like a hunting trip in the northern wilds.

Canadian National Railways tap the choicest of the solitary hunting districts of Northern Ontario, Quebec and the Maritime Provinces, and if you are going off on a hunt this year go to the nearest ticket office and procure a copy of "Hunting in Canada", which contains full information as to the various districts, accommodation and guides. Then pack up your old rifle, sweater and togs and be off.

Don't forget a bottle of Peroxide when you come to town next time. Peroxide on hand when needed is the ounce of prevention that is cheaper than the pound of cure. Parke Davis' Peroxide Standardized, guaranteed 3 per cent Hydrogen Dioxide (H₂O₂). 25c per bottle. The Chauvin Pharmacy.

Students Storm and Capture Rocky Heights

Below.—One of the peaks recently scaled for the first time in history.

Inset.—Field-Harris party nearing their objective. Right.—Edward Fuez, famous Canadian Pacific Railway Swiss guide, who led the Field-Harris expedition, conquering five new peaks in the Columbia Ice Field.

Five peaks in the Canadian Rockies have just been conquered for the first time by three Harvard and Hotchkiss students who were accompanied by their Swiss guides. The students who climbed and named the new peaks in the famous Columbia ice field are Osgood Field, Frederick Field and Lemond Harris of Boston. They were led by the noted Canadian Pacific Railway guide Edward Fuez, the oldest guide in point of service in the Canadian Rockies. Two of the newly conquered peaks have been named Mount Harvard and Mount Hotchkiss after the two American universities.

The party made five first ascents including the hitherto unconquered Mount Patterson, 10,400 feet, Mount Sir James Outram 10,700 feet, the South Twin, 10,600 feet and the unnamed peaks, Harvard and Hotchkiss. Besides all this they discovered a new route to the top of the second highest peak in the Rockies, Mount Columbia, 12,000 feet, which was made in a return journey of twenty-three hours. The aim of the exploring party, to conquer the South Twin, was successfully attained.

The Field-Harris party left Lake Louise five weeks ago accompanied by two guides, five packers and nineteen horses, and travelled 200 miles into the Columbia ice field. Their progress was halted several times by the terrific winds from the ice fields and once they were forced to halt a day at Mistayah lake in order to make trails with which to get their horses across. Here, at the foot of Mount Patterson, they put up a bivouac camp and accompanied by the weird howling of the wild ice winds of this district spent most of their night thrubbing a ukelele and singing warm southern songs.

Lemond Harris had his own Swiss guide with him, Joseph Biner who has guided him for many years in the Swiss Alps. Edward Fuez who has been guiding in the Canadian Rockies since 1903 was the man who successfully maneuvered this valuable expedition. The greatest novelty of the trip, he stated on his return, was the meeting of fourteen American girls on the lonely forks of the North Saskatchewan River, who were travelling alone with their packers. The girls insisted that the party stop off for dinner with them that night, following which a note of civilization was added to their wild northern environment by the sound of the Ukelele and the swish of dancing feet over pine needles dimly lighted by a blazing log camp fire.

Giant Fossils Are Found In Unity District

Fossilized bones of the giant animals that reigned from three to six million years ago were recently discovered by Ralph Nelson, of Unity, in the vicinity of Muddy Lake, south of Unity.

The discovery has been reported to the University of Saskatchewan and the Dominion Department of the Interior, and the deposits have been identified as a typical bone bed of the Cretaceous age. It is the first discovery of its kind in Saskatchewan.

SUPERSTITION LEADS TO CRUEL MURDER: FIVE INDIANS UNDER ARREST

Five Indians, accused of murdering a lad of 17 years old by torture because he was accused of sorcery, are on their way to Vancouver, in custody of the C. N. W. M. P. The lad was buried alive with his hands tied behind him, after being tied to a sapling several days. His slayers declared that he had worked magic to make hunting poor for a tribe in the Telegraph creek country in British Columbia, 200 miles inland from Wrangel.

A large deposit of yellow, red and brown ochre has been discovered 70 miles north of Edmonton and within six miles of the railroad.

The Mirror Journal Ceases Publication

The publisher of the Mirror (Alta) Journal, a rural weekly, has given notice to his subscribers that the issue of September 24, will be the last. He has found the business insufficient to meet the outlay necessary in conducting a printing plant. The Mirror has been established since 1912 and has turned out an issue every week with the exception of the period when the editor was serving overseas.

HOW TO ARRIVE AT THE CAPACITY OF SILO

To find the capacity of a silo, the contents of the silo are first computed by using the following rule: Take the square of the diameter of the silo and multiply by .7854. Multiply this result by the height, and the result will be the number of cubic feet of space in the silo. To obtain the tonnage the number of cubic feet is divided by 41.

A circular saw, in Montreal, broke while in operation. A 35-lb fragment was hurled through a roof and demolished a bed just vacated.

Ribstone Council Meeting: Minutes

Regular meeting of the council of the Municipal District of Ribstone No. 421, was held at the Council Chamber, Chauvin, on Saturday October 4th, at 1.30 o'clock in the afternoon.

Present: Councillors Meurin, Lang, Sewell, Ferguson, McCluskey and Tunney. Reeve Ferguson presiding.

The minutes of the last regular meeting were read and Clr. McCluskey moved that same be adopted as read. Carried.

Survey: Reeve Ferguson and Clr. Sewell reported having inspected the survey on the S.E. 35-43-1-4., in company with the District Engineer, and stated that it appeared to them that the survey had been made in the only possible place, and Clr. McCluskey moved that the survey be allowed to stand. Carried.

Clr. McCluskey also moved that $15.00 per acre be paid for the land taken for the road way, and that the owner execute his own fencing. Carried.

Municipal Association: Letter was read requesting this M.D. to appoint delegates for the 16th annual convention to be held at Calgary, November 26th 27th and 28th. Clr. McCluskey moved that this be tabled until next meeting. Carried.

L. D'Albertanson attended to ask for some remuneration for publishing minutes in full. Reeve Ferguson moved that the sum of $2.00 per month be paid for five months, and that a further agreement be made after the next annual meeting. Carried.

Road Way, Re Simpson and Others: On blind line through 12-42-2-4., Clr. McCluskey moved that this be left to the committee of Clr. Sewell and Reeve Ferguson and that if this committee decide the cost to be reasonable, that Councillor Sewell be authorized to execute the work. Clr. Lang moved as an amendment that the committee inspect the site and report at next meeting, and that application be made to the Department for a grant of materials. There voted for the amendment, Clr. Lang, and for the motion, Clrs. Meurin, Tunney, McCluskey, Sewell and Reeve Ferguson, motion carried.

Assessor: Request for additional remuneration. Clr. Tunney requested that the application of Mr. Cargill be read. The council appeared to be of the opinion that any change in regard to the remuneration would be unfair to the applicants whose offers were not accepted. Clr. McCluskey moved that the request be denied. Carried.

Hospital Account: Letter and account was presented from Royal Alexander Hospital, Re, the late E. Foyle and account from the undertakers for a casket and the funeral. Clr. Sewell moved that these be paid, and that the Secretary take up the matter with the Militia authorities with a view of obtaining a refund of these amounts. Carried.

Letter and account read from R. H. Cautley, Surveyor, $237.50 and plans produced. Clr. Lang moved that this be paid. Carried.

Letter was read from Provincial Sanitary Inspector, together with report as to the sanitary condition of Ribstone. The report recommended that the Municipal District provide the Hamlet with a nuisance ground, and that a deep trench be dug on the nuisance ground for dumping purposes. Clr. McCluskey moved that this be left to Clr. Lang for attention. Carried.

THE HONK OF THE WILD GOOSE

Do you know the honk of the wild goose? Have you heard it over some lonely lake in the heart of the silent northern forest as you lay on the balsam boughs in the early dawn? If you have, you will hear it again in dreams each year when the witching autumn winds begin to blow, when the trees turn crimson and brown and gold and the spell of October falls on the land and streams. It will stir in you the longing for fresh open spaces and the clean north woods that sooner or later you will be compelled to answer.

If you have not heard the honk of the wild goose, the whir of the partridge, the quack of the duck in the wild rice, the wind in the trees in the northern Canadian forest and the musical tongue of the running wolf pack at night, you have missed the music of Autumn and much of the joy of living.

There is no tonic like the woods in Autumn. If you are worried and tired, need new courage and strength, take out your rifle and your old clothes and go away to the northern wilds, follow the track of deer over the oosey moss and the trail of the lordly moose and you will return to the city renewed in body, mind and spirit.

Canadian National Railways Lines run through the very heart of the best hunting district in Canada, and you may procure booklets from District Passenger Agent at Edmonton, Alta., that will give you full information regarding the choicest spots, accommodation and guides. Ask for "Hunting in Canada".

Mounted Mountaineers Pow-Wow at Yoho

Early last July a small party of riders was encamped on the plateau which lies between Tumbling Creek Glacier and the gap in the Vermilion Range of the Canadian Rockies known as the Wolverine Pass. The day was warm and conducive to sleep, and, because on this account one of the party dozed and dreamed and later caused the other members of the party to enthuse over his dream, there gathered in the Yoho Valley of British Columbia a week since, two hundred and six prominent Canadians, Americans and Europeans, calling themselves Trail Riders of the Canadian Rockies. Each had qualified for membership in the Order by riding at one time or another not less than fifty miles through the Rockies on horseback.

This unique gathering, recording as it did the first attempt to form an association of mounted mountain climbers was characterized by Dr. Charles W. Walcott, head of the Smithsonian Institute of Washington and honorary president of the Trail Riders, as a step which will prove one of the greatest international attractions.

The attendance at the First Annual Ride of the Trail Riders exceeded by far the most sanguine hopes of the organisers, but fortunately, Yoho Camp, that beautiful village of chalets a mile above the sea, had been reinforced with twenty Indian teepees and a huge Sun Dance Lodge which had been erected as camp headquarters by Stony Indians under the supervision of Chief Walking-in-the-road.

Only one trail rider left this camp with what could be termed a legitimate grouch. This was Dr. Walcott who believes that bears stole the side of mutton which was hanging at the back of his chalet when he last saw it.

Riding was, of course, the order of the day, and many of the riders, enchanted by the scenery, fell far behind the main group and lingered on the heights till night fall. In the evenings the mountain enthusiasts gathered in the Sun Dance Lodge to talk over the day or to sing and dance and otherwise amuse themselves. After the white-mans pow-wow on the second night a real Indian pow-wow was danced by Chief Walking-in-the-road and Chief Buffalo-child Long Lance, to the accompaniment of Indian singing and the beating of tom-toms by a group of Stony braves.

Altogether the first annual pow-wow of the Trail Riders of the Canadian Rockies was a huge success, and the organisers believe that henceforth the Canadian Rockies will receive the recognition and appreciation which is their due.

and Altar utensils from us, and send the money in advance—that's our rule.

6. You shall get all the help you can from the business men in your neighbourhood; although we may have more profit from you than they have, it is against our rules to give to your churches

7. You shall convert your neighbors also to your faith in us, for we have room for more money.

8. You shall look at the pretty pictures in our catalogues as often as you can, so as to strengthen your desire for things you do not need, but which you may order to save freight. Send us all of your ready cash so that you may not have any left to buy necessities from your home dealers.

9. You shall believe us rather than your home business men, for we want your trade. We get to be millionaires on your support. Don't be bluffed.

10. You shall call on the business people of your own vicinity for help if you meet with hard luck or sickness. It's your money we want; we don't know you unless your orders are accompanied by cash.

Snapshots

On being asked by his son to explain the meaning of the word "honesty," a Jew replied:—

"My son, the word 'honesty' is a very difficult thing to define. People have so many different and varied views on the subject but I think I can explain to you in no better way than this: Supposing you went to the bank with a customer's cheque for $50, and the cashier gave you by mistake $60; well if you gave five of the cashier's ten to your partner that would be honesty."

"What you seem to want, friends," said the stranger to the earnest young reformers, "is a place where every person has got to be good by law."

"That's it," they agreed.

"Where smoking is not allowed and drink unknown. Where no one need worry about food and clothes. Where everyone has to go to church, and everyone keeps regular hours."

"Oh to find such a place" exclaimed a soulful fellow.

"Easily found," replied the stranger. "I've just come on from doing twelve months in one."

The waiting customers in a barber's shop were sitting round the room on a wooden bench, reading and yawning. The barber was busy singeing a man's hair.

Suddenly two Cockney urchins looked in at the oven door. After a moment one of them said to his companion: "Lumme, look at that chap. He's 'avin' 'em looked for with a light!"

A sister of mercy was teaching the Sunday school scholars to repeat the following text: "Our eyes wait on Thee, and Thou givest us our meat in due season."

A little girl stood up, and this was her rendering: "Our eyes wait on Thee, and Thou givest us our meat from New Zealand."

More than one million pounds of wool have been shipped east by the organized wool growers in Alberta during the present season.

A man, while walking through a village heard the choir singing and stopped to listen. At the same time a naturalist was standing nearby listening to the chirp of a cricket.

"What beautiful singing" said the man.

"Yes," replied the naturalist, "they do it by rubbing their hind legs together."

Mary had a little light. It was well trained, no doubt. For every time a nice boy called The little light went out.

Editorial Comment

Sooner or later, at some stage or other, all our efforts have to be placed alongside the cold hard rule of "cash" and be measured thereby.

"Cash" though such a frequently used measure stick is most fortunately and happily not the final adjudicator of the merit or otherwise of the worth of human effort.

Our daily labors, no matter how useful or useless to the community at large, have to be measured by the "cash" they render to ourselves. It is no small wonder that we lose sight of the "ethical" and "moral" value of our efforts, and descend to that point of view most graphically expressed in the phrase "Business is Business".

The "man in the field" is affected by this just as the "man in the street" for he has to regulate his action by the probable return he will get for his labor, and too often must he disregard all effort which might ultimately prove more profitable to society at large as well as to himself individually by reason of his necessity for an immediate "cash" return.

We can't all afford to be idealists like Burbank who has spent his life developing plant culture to the general profit of society, being a virtual pauper at the end of his days and his valuable land on which untold potential wealth to society was being developed sold for cemetery purposes. What a satire on modern civilization such a circumstance is!

History has often demonstrated that those who make the largest contributions to the welfare of society receive little or no "cash" return for their efforts; and often have suffered seriously from the hands of hostile society even in some cases, forfeiting life itself. They have been the truly successful men in the light of ultimate history because they measured up to a greater measure than that of cold "cash".

Our sympathies and finer feelings have also to be placed very frequently along side of the "cash" measure stick. So intricate has our social system become that in the great majority of instances personal direct effort is impossible, and we have to supplant individual effort by its token—that is to say "cash".

The only large class of humanity who still decline to measure the worth of their efforts by the "cash" rule is without doubt the women who are our wives and mothers. By them is shown the purest affections of human love, and by them are more strongly exercised the spiritual forces of faith, hope, and labor.

Pause a moment and reflect how great would be the loss to all of us men and children of our women adopted a strictly "cash" standard as the measure of the efforts on our behalf. It would necessitate the destruction of the vast majority of our homes, for we could not pay our women. It would mean that every child would have to go without care and protection for they could not pay mother. It would mean the total destruction of civilization which in a material and spiritual manner is based upon our homes, and not our "cash".

Three-quarters of the present evils of society will be remedied when we learn to use "cash" as a tool, rather than as somewhat like "fire" is a "good servant but a bad master".

Count Kayabama, of Japan in his own language expresses very graphically the force of the "moral" measure stick when he says: "Here in Japan we have something that is very difficult to explain to a foreigner. It is the great force at work to control public opinion and public expression. It would probably find no counterpart in any other country, because it is an outgrowth a natural result of the social structure of Japan. When it comes to a pinch we are one great family. Partly it is the government, partly the disciplining influence of army and navy training on successive generations in which practically every citizen shares, and partly it is the combined will of the men in charge of our large enterprises.

Mr. Y. Ito, president of the largest shipping company in the Orient, an outstanding Japanese citizen says:—
In America you say business is business, meaning nothing else counts. In Japan we cannot quite say so. We do not show it but we cannot keep sentiment entirely out of our business. We do not want to keep it out of our lives."

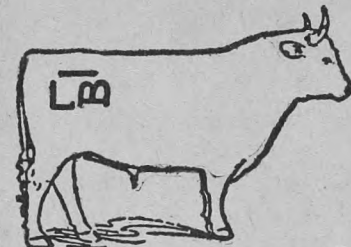

The early resumption of social events is indicated by a number of announcements in this issue. The rush of harvest and threshing will soon be drawing to its close, and some time may be devoted to recreation and enjoyment.

Among the early events is an entertainment by the pupils of the Chauvin schools, and these functions are always assured of a good attendance. This concert is not one of self-interest by the children, for they have decided to devote the profits to assist the Junior Red Cross work. This step in citizenship by the children is worthy of our fullest approval and support.

A long strip of wrapping paper curled and twisted into strange shapes and carried on the wings of a strong breeze is sufficient to alarm any horse. Borne by the wind into some corner between the buildings it lays there ready, if given opportunity, to spread. Just a little care in the first place is sufficient to prevent this paper being blown around. And the small effort of picking up and destroying such vagrant fragments would remove a potential source of run-a-way teams and consequent dangers.

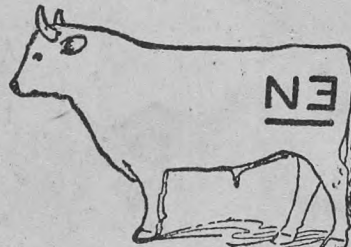

There's always a head waiter in a crowded barber shop.

LIFE'S LITANY

A little hope, a little dream,
A little prayer, the heart to cheer
A little joy to shed its gleam
Upon a pathway, else too drear—
So life is sweet to me!

A little doubt, a little pain,
So that my soul may know the peace
Or happiness, when once again
It wins a way to sweet release—
So life is sweet to me!

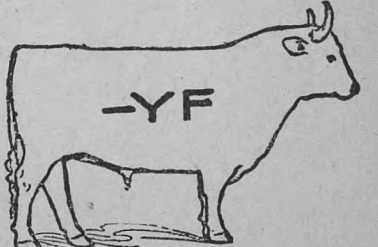

A little skill in all I do,
A little praise, lest labor pall;
A little strength to carry through
And someone's love to crown it all—
So life is sweet to me!

Break your word and your credit falls to pieces.

It is natural to think of a motor-car as a development of the twentieth century, but in reality more than 300 different types of cars had been built previous to 1895.

Sit Behind the Wheel of this Master Six

At first glance, you will certainly appreciate the smart lines, the attractive finish and beautiful appointments of this McLaughlin-Buick.

You can't really know this fine car, however, until you have sat behind the wheel.

When you have felt the superabundant power; tested the speed and unusual riding comfort; enjoyed the ease of control, on all roads in all weathers, that is afforded by the tested four wheel brakes—not until then will you know all the value offered in this fine car.

PREPARING THE SURPLUS COCKERELS FOR THE MARKET

(Experimental Farm Note)

Repeated experiments conducted by the Poultry Division of the Dominion Experimental Farms, both at Ottawa and at the branch Farms throughout Canada, have demonstrated the fact that it is far more profitable to fatten cockerels before putting them on the market, than to sell them direct from range. The additional profit obtained thereby, is due not only to the increase in the weight but more particularly to the improved quality of the flesh, which always commands a higher price.

Crate fattening involves a little more time and trouble than does fattening in pens or yards, but has proven to be the more satisfactory and gives greater returns. An experiment conducted at the Experimental Farm Ottawa, in 1921, showed that the average profit (over cost of feed) realized on birds fattened in crates was almost fifty per cent greater than on those fattened in yards.

No birds showing signs of constitutional weakness should be put in the fattening crates, as they will be unable to stand the confinement and forced feeding. Cockerels of the general purpose breeds fatten best in crates when they weigh from four to five pounds. Before being placed in the crates they should be thoroughly treated for lice, and if necessary treated again during the fattening period.

Experiments have also shown that a home-mixed fattening mash gives equally good results as a commercial mash and produces a cheaper gain. Such a mash may well be composed of equal parts by weight, of corn meal, feed flour and middlings, or equal parts of feed flour, cornmeal, barley meal and buck wheat meal. In fact a mixture of almost any finely ground grain will prove satisfactory. The mash should be mixed with buttermilk, but if this is not possible, skim-milk may be used, and 5 to 10 per cent tankage added to the mash ingredients. The mixture should be about the consistency of porridge so that it can be poured from a pail. It is preferable to mix one feed ahead, so that it will be a little sour when fed. As a general rule two feeds per day are sufficient, and no more should be given than the birds can clear up in twenty minutes. All surplus feed should be removed after each feeding and the troughs kept thoroughly clean.

More detailed information on this subject, including a complete description of fattening crates, is contained in Exhibition Circular No. 70 "Crate Feeding" which can be obtained free of charge from the Publications Branch, Dept. of Agriculture, Ottawa.

CANADIAN APPLES FOR FOLK AND FRIENDS IN THE OLD COUNTRY

This year's Christmas for our folks and friends across the sea can be made happy by a small remembrance from Canada of a box of our Canadian Apples, hand picked and packed; their luster and taste tell of our beautiful Summer Climate. Your grocer can fill such an order—the Canadian Express will transport and deliver by rapid express service, including refrigerator storage on steamer to any station in Great Britain or Ireland from Montreal, Que., and Quebec, Que., up to November 15th and afterwards from Halifax, N.S., and St. John N.B., at a rate of Three Dollars per standard box of apples, not exceeding one cubic foot eight inches in measurement or over fifty pounds in weight. Consult any Canadian National Express Agent as to through express rate from your town.

On a motoring tour, Jenkins pulled up at a very old inn and ordered some thing to eat.

While he had his meal the proprietor talked incessantly to him about the legends of the village.

"Everything about this place has a story," said he.

"Well," said Jenkins unkindly "do tell me the story of this quaint old ham sandwich."

Wise is the man who can correct a mistake before he makes it.

THE CALL OF THE NORTH WOODS

Never to the great Canadian North Woods call so insistently: never, are they so full of beauty as during this magic month of October when the mornings are sparkling cool and clear, when the wild goose honks over the still lakes, when the trees are a symphony of crimson, green and gold, when the sun goes down like a ball of fire and all night long the quivering northern lights play across the sky.

Then it is that you long to leave the city's dust and din, the wicket, the telephone, the typewriter the newspaper, stiff collars and razors all behind and answer the call of the northern wilds. You see the trail of the moose on the spongy moss. You hear the call of the wild things of the forest, the song of a bullet through the clean cool air and the crash of your lordly prey as it falls before your aim. But perhaps business is urgent and each day is filled to the brim and he feels he cannot go.

Still the north woods call, and one day he will be able to stand it no longer. You will get out that old rifle, sweaters and togs and go to the nearest Canadian National Railways office and ask for their publication "Hunting in Canada". In this booklet you will find listed the choicest spots and full information regarding accommodation and guides.

"Is that all the work you can do in an hour?" asked Sam's new employer.

"Well, boss," said Sam, I das-say I could do muh—but I nevah was one for showin' off."

IN PARIS

THE PARIS subsidiary of the Bank of Montreal is situated in a quarter rich in historic interest.

From a lofty column in Place Vendôme the statue of Napoleon looks out upon an imposing square the construction of which began in 1686 under authority of Louis XIV.—a square which has witnessed many of the city's greatest demonstrations and which now mirrors the social and business life of Paris.

Here, in the heart of the capital of France, the Bank of Montreal in 1919 established a subsidiary office in the Ritz Hotel Building. In February, 1922, the business of this office had become so extensive that enlarged quarters were opened near by at No. 6 Place Vendome.
